

Bleeding, Bleeding!—IT NEVER can be better after you get two or three miles into the lower part of the State. You will stop at the Hotel York, and then go to Webster's stop at Halling's Mansion House, and you will be taken care of, so as to induce you to stay again. A few evenings ago a fat lady, who had been to Webster's, told me that the people of Webster's, the day of "fire, fire," were heard, when within a short distance of Webster's, to the harmonies and brilliancy of the orchestra. The Dr. himself did not seem to be much frightened; he has an elastic and pliable disposition; he can stand still without being fatigued, and can sit without being fatigued his masters. Come on boys, when your lamp's got dull, the Dr. will furnish gas, and light you up again.
Turtle Soup—Odd Fellow's Hall.—The turtle soup was served up on the day and night, and was served on in New York by Brother Parsons, Odd Fellow's Hall, corner of Grand and Centre streets.—N.Y.—families supplied by the quart.
Louis Moynihan.—An original daguerreotype of the Governor of Hungary, and the only one taken since his arrival in the United States, is on exhibition at the grand saloon of the Broadway. A separate picture of Mrs. Catherine N. Forrest may be seen in the same gallery.
The celebrated Ox John Hancock.—The fatted oxen overruled in this country. The best of said ox will be sold for public auction at Peleg's Market, at the grand saloon of the Broadway. The sale will be held Friday, and cut and sold on Saturday of this week. The proprietor wishes to draw the attention of hotelkeepers and others to the fact that the ox will be fed on the last day. The ox was fattened by Mr. Baldwin, of Cleveland, Ohio.
H. M. VALENTINE.—Great Bargains in Furs, at Frank Bonelli's for Sale, 55 Broadway.—All furs now reduced to half price. Furs, wishing to sell an entire collection, will be sold at half price. All fur trade has submitted them all to the above reduction. Some of the choice fables and garments yet remain. Also, a fine Chinese, Persian, and Mameluke. Address, H. M. Valentine, 55 Broadway, New York.
There is no Article in the Wardrobe of a gentleman of more importance to his personal appearance than an elegantly-made, well-fitting shirt. It is believed that the shirt is the most important article in the Wardrobe, next to the coat of all competitors. MONEY MARKET.—Wednesday, Jan. 14—6 P.M.
The stock market continued quiet. Prices remain without material alteration. Speculation has died away, and a revival will be more difficult a second time than the first. The leading railroad stocks have been very weak for the past two or three days, and holders have been trying to put them off without depressing prices much. They have succeeded much better than we anticipated. Reading and Erie, since the dividend, have been freely offered, and have been steadily settling down in price. This shows the effect of declaring and paying dividends never earned. It shows that shrewd holders exert themselves to get rid of a stock, the moment a dividend not earned has been paid. When the four per cent dividend on Erie was announced, the stock was selling at 87 per cent—dividend off would have reduced the price to 83. Sales were made to day at 77 1/2, showing a decline of 8% per cent. When the three and a half per cent dividend on Reading Railroad was declared, the market price of the stock was 61—dividend off would have reduced it to 57 1/2. Sales were made to day at 58 1/2, a decline of 1 1/2 per cent. The same thing occurred in Norfolk and Worcester, and the same result will be realized in any and every doubtful stock. It is impossible to make sensible, shrewd people believe that these railroad companies earn the dividends they declare; but there are enough who have the most perfect confidence in all statements and reports emanating from railroad managers and directors, to take off the hands of the more cautious all the stock they wish to dispose of. Those who had sold Erie or Reading Railroad, dividends on, would have made a good profit; and our advice had been more generally taken, a large portion of the shares on the market would have changed hands. As a general thing, it is best to sell fancy stocks dividend on. They depreciate so rapidly afterwards that those who have had much experience invariably clear out any share in advance. With really good stocks the case is different. They fall off just about the dividend, and gradually recover the previous market price again.
At the first board, to-day, Erie Income Bonds declined 14 per cent; Morris Canal, 14; New Jersey Zinc Co., 14; Essex Co., 14; Carter Co., 14; Norwich and Worcester, 14; Reading Railroad, 14; Erie Railroad, 14. Harlem has been pretty firm for several days past, and holders are less disposed to put their stock on the market than we have noticed for a long time. The recent report of the company has had a favorable influence on the stock. A dividend will be declared on the first of February. What the effect will be remains to be seen. The fall in New Jersey Zinc and Sussex has been caused by a large amount being held in such a way as to be in danger of coming on the market any moment. Whether it will or not is doubtful. This fact has had an unfavorable influence upon prices, and may depress them still more.
The receipts at the office of the Assistant Treasurer of this port, to-day, amounted to $70,117 24; payments, $53,665 15—balance, $17,752 14.
The demand for foreign exchange for remittance by the Africa, to-day, was only to a moderate extent. We have no alteration to report in quotations. The steamer arrived out $600,235 in specie, principally in American gold. This is about the amount anticipated. The Franklin, on Saturday, will take out a similar amount.
The Merchants' Clerks' Savings Bank has declared a dividend, payable on the 20th inst., at the rate of six per cent per annum on sum of one thousand dollars and under, and at the rate of five per cent on larger sums.
